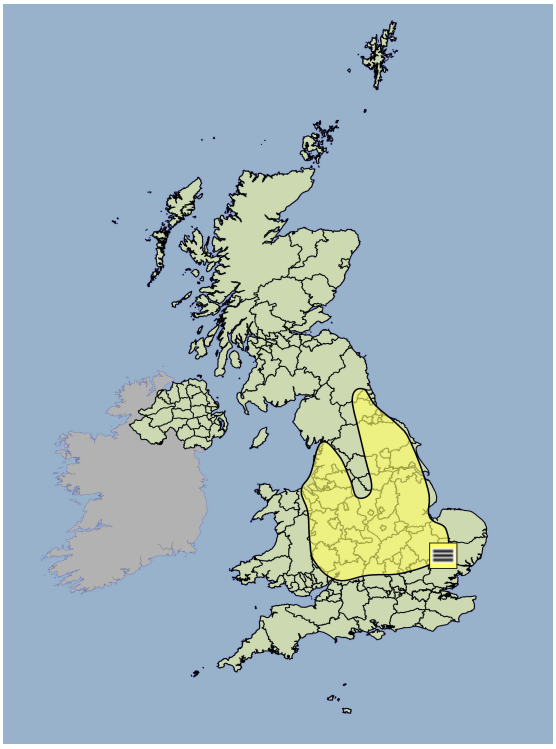
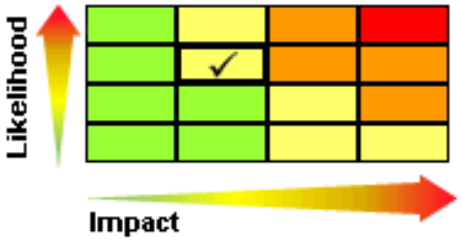
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
A stagnant and moist airmass remains in place across much of the UK. Fog has persisted through Monday across many areas, and visibility is likely to reduce on Monday evening, often below 100 metres.

The fog is likely to thin quite quickly across the south of the yellow area on Tuesday morning but may persist for longer further north.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Fog

Valid from 16:00 on Mon, 02nd Nov 2015 until 12:00 on Tue, 03rd Nov 2015

Fog is likely to thicken this evening and become dense in places. Much of this will persist overnight and last well into Tuesday morning.

Some minor disruption to travel is likely with poor visibility leading to difficult driving conditions on some roads.
